The Politics of Ignoring: Protests in Mubarak’s Egypt

Dr. Dina Bishara (German Institute for International and Security Affairs)

Wednesday 20 November 2013, 3-5pm
Venue: Room 4426, SOAS, Main Building

Dr. Dina Bishara earned a Ph.D. in Political Science from the George Washington University in August 2013 and is currently a Research Fellow at the German Institute for International and Security Affairs. Her research interests include authoritarianism, labor movements, social and protest movements, and state-society relations in authoritarian regimes. Dina’s research is inspired by an effort to understand both the day-to-day workings of authoritarian rule as well as the ways in which seemingly stable authoritarian institutions begin to break down. Her dissertation explores challenges to authoritarian institutions through a focus on workers’ activism in Mubarak’s Egypt.

For further information please contact the Department of Politics and International Studies, SOAS, University of London, Thornhaugh Street, London, WC1H 0XG.