1. Introduction and Scope of the Regulations

1.1 Application of postgraduate research degree regulations

These postgraduate research degree regulations apply to all postgraduate research programmes offered by SOAS University of London (“the School”). These regulations apply to students from institutions other than SOAS University of London when they are enrolled on postgraduate research programmes delivered by the School.

1.2 Taught degree regulations

The School’s Taught Degree Regulations do not apply to postgraduate research students except where postgraduate research students are taking individual taught modules as part of their programme.

1.3 Code of Practice for Research Degrees

In addition to these regulations, postgraduate research degree students are subject to the framework and requirements outlined in the SOAS Code of Practice for Research Degrees, published annually at the start of the academic year.

1.4 Minimum regulatory requirements

These regulations, the SOAS Code of Practice for Research Degrees, and the departmental/faculty programme and training specifications set out the minimum requirements of the School.

1.5 Suspension of regulations

Suspension of these regulations can be approved by the relevant Associate Dean for Research in consultation with the Academic Registrar and the Head of the Doctoral School. If agreement cannot be reached then a final decision will be made by the Pro-Director for Research and Enterprise. If suspension is approved, the case will be reported in anonymous form to the next meeting of the School’s Learning and Teaching Quality Committee (LTQC) and the School’s Research Committee.

2. Award Criteria

2.1 PhD Degree

SOAS PhD degrees are awarded to students who have completed relevant research training, devised and implemented a research project within the degree requirements, and demonstrated that the work examined forms a significant, distinct and original contribution to the knowledge of the subject.

2.2 MPhil Degree

SOAS MPhil degrees are awarded to students who have completed relevant research training, devised and implemented a research project within the degree requirements, and demonstrated that the work examined demonstrates a thorough understanding and critical assessment of knowledge within the subject.

3. Research Degree Programmes

3.1 Period of registration for PhD

The PhD Programme is of three years full-time study or six years part-time equivalent except for students enrolled on the +4 programme in Anthropology and Sociology where the programme is four years of full-time study or eight years part-time equivalent.

3.2 Period of registration for MPhil

The MPhil Programme is of two years full-time study or four years part-time equivalent.

3.3 Minimum period of enrolment

Postgraduate research degree programmes must normally extend over at least two years of full time study or part-time equivalent.

3.4 Continuous study requirements

Postgraduate research degree programmes must be pursued continuously except where an Interruption of Studies has been approved by the School in accordance with the published procedure.

3.5 Student logbook

All postgraduate research students are required to use the Online Research Students Logbook.

3.6 Upgrade to PhD

Postgraduate research students enrolled on the three year MPhil/PhD degree programme are considered for upgrade to PhD enrolment within 9 months of full-time enrolment or part-time equivalent. Students on the +4 pathway will be considered for upgrade to PhD enrolment within 21 months of full-time enrolment or part-time equivalent.

3.7 Submission of thesis for examination

Postgraduate research students enrolled on the three year degree programme must submit a thesis for examination no later than four years from enrolment (seven years part-time) or within the deadline prescribed by the School where students are admitted with credit from other institutions. Students on the +4 pathway must submit for examination no later than five years from enrolment (nine years part-time).

3.8 Examination procedures

PhD Candidates will be examined in accordance with the procedures and the requirements of a thesis outlined in section 6 of these regulations.

4. Enrolment, Attendance, Upgrade and Progression

4.1 Enrolment

Students must enrol upon initial registration for the postgraduate research degree and at the start of each academic session for the period of the degree except where Registry has approved fieldwork for the student during the period of enrolment.

4.2 Supervisory committee

All postgraduate research students are appointed a three person supervisory committee to support them in their research project.

4.3 Initial enrolment as MPhil and upgrade process

Postgraduate research students are initially registered as MPhil/PhD candidates and considered for upgrade to PhD enrolment during the first year of study. If the outcome of this is unsuccessful, students may be required to withdraw from the degree programme or to continue on the MPhil degree and be assessed for the award of MPhil within the requirements outlined in the SOAS Code of Practice for Research Degrees. For students on the +4 pathway in Anthropology and Sociology consideration for upgrade to PhD enrolment will take place during the second year of study.

4.4 Attendance requirements

4.4.1 Postgraduate research students are required to pursue a continuous course of study at the School under the direction of their supervisors.

4.4.2 Postgraduate research students, whether full-time or part-time, are required to undertake research for their degree based at SOAS in London. Students should ensure that they are able to attend SOAS in person for teaching and meetings as required.

4.5 Fieldwork

Following completion of the consideration for upgrade to PhD, postgraduate research students may be granted permission for fieldwork away from SOAS subject to relevant provisions of the SOAS Code of Practice for Research Degrees and applicable departmental requirements.

4.6 Annual progression

Annual progression is subject to satisfactory annual report from the Supervisor being approved by Registry and the appropriate Faculty Associate Dean for Research.

5. Writing Up

5.1 Timeframe for writing up

Students on a full-time enrolment for the three year programme are expected to undertake writing up of the thesis during the third year of study following completion of fieldwork and/or data collection in year two. This timetable is adjusted accordingly for part-time enrolment. Students enrolled on the +4 pathway will undertake writing up during the fourth year of full-time enrolment.

5.2 Extension of Writing-up status

5.2.1 Students are permitted the maximum of one additional year at the conclusion of their normal period of full-time or part-time study for completion of the writing-up of their thesis on Extension of Writing-up status.

5.2.2 Conditions and requirements for the additional year of enrolment are outlined in the SOAS Code of Practice for Research Degrees.
